

Piriharakeke Generation Inspiration Centre

A Māori museum and art gallery that aims to authentically celebrate and share the stories, taonga, contemporary art and language of Ngāti Raukawa ki te Tonga and its hapū who have significant interests in Te Awahou Foxton.

Oranjehof Dutch Connection Centre

Oranjehof showcases the stories and treasures of one of Aotearoa's largest migrant groups - the New Zealand Dutch community.

In our national Dutch museum, you can get in touch with all things Dutch: from Abel Tasman's encounter with Māori at Golden Bay in 1642, to cherished personal recollections of making a home abroad, to current events linking New Zealand and the Netherlands.

Foxton Hub

Foxton's local heritage and natural environment centre, library and living room - for visitors and the community. Foxton Hub showcases Te Awahou-Foxton, offering visitors a glimpse into the place and its people.

The Foxton library is part of this space and is open for all to enjoy! For the community, it offers a safe place to interact, connect, share and learn together. Come and use the meeting rooms, sunny lounges, play areas, social spaces, as well as the cafe, rest rooms and free wifi.
